Camera Information

1. The camera I have is a Nikon D3500 DSLR.
2. URLs for the three reviews:
  - <https://www.digitalcameraworld.com/reviews/nikon-d3500-review>
  - <https://www.dpreview.com/reviews/nikon-d3500-review>
  - <https://www.techradar.com/reviews/nikon-d3500-review>
3. Three strengths noted about the camera are its image quality, its ergonomics and handling, and its friendliness to beginners.
4. Three weaknesses are its video quality, its connectivity, and its fixed back screen.
5. To adjust the ISO settings, press the i button and select the ISO sensitivity that works best and press ok.
6. To adjust the white balance, press the i button and select the amount of white balance that works best and press ok.
7. If one needs to adjust the value for exposure compensation, hold down on the exposure button and rotate the dial until the exposure is at the desired value.
8. Setting the file size and compression is as easy as pressing the i button and selecting the file size in the image quality menu.

9. The Shutter speed and Aperture can be adjusted by rotating the mode dial and rotating the command dial.

10. My camera has an 18-55 mm lens.

Note to teacher: I did not have my camera at the moment as my mother ordered it but it will be here on Wednesday September 1st.
